Hi Mr Opperman,

Sorry to hear you had difficulties joining the collection time. It looks like you were missing the “#” at the end of your code from the screen shot you provided.

When are you available to reschedule? We can have someone call you directly if schedules line up.

Thanks,
Emily

Mr. Opperman,

As outlined in the email from counsel- we will be sending you a remote collection kit with tools for our examiners to use to collect your devices. The time you select will be the time you join our examiner on a call (a google meet) to kick off the collections. After the collection has started, you will not be able to use your devices until they have finished. I've added the email below for reference that outlines the steps of the remote collection.

"During the collection time, you will not be able to use your devices while they are being collected, so please take that into consideration when scheduling.

Once you have confirmed your collection time frame, a package from Wolfgang Wilke, the project leader at 4Discovery, will be sent to the location you provided. This package from FedEx will contain a remote collection kit, including an external hard drive, cables, and the equipment needed to preserve your data. You will need to be present to accept the package as adult signature is required.

At the time of the collection, a 4Discovery examiner will contact you at Google Meet link provided. Please be prepared for the collection process by:

- Have available all account user names and passwords for items being collected
- All devices are powered on, fully charged, and plugged in

The length of time to complete the collection will vary based on amount of data and number of devices/accounts being collected.

Once the collection process is complete, please re-package the remote collection kit along with any cables or external devices that were include and return to 4Discovery using the shipping label sent with the kit. If any of your devices are non-functioning, include those items in the return package for 4Discovery to complete a physical inspection of the devices. These items will be returned to you once the inspection is complete.

If you have any questions about this process, please contact your counsel to set up a call with 4Discovery in advance of your scheduled collection time."

I'll go ahead and schedule you for Friday May 14th at 1PM CST/2PM EST, and will follow up with a calendar invitation to use at the time of the collection.

We will be sending the remote collection kit to the address: 130 grant street lockport ny 14094

Best,
Emily

I thought i had done it but then it came back as canceled by you guys. I can do ANY day in the afternoon. My sleep schedule is backwards and I'm usually up around noon. Aren't you supposed to be SENDING a kit? Meaning: i was told i wouldn't have to actually interact with anyone. Lemme know what date/time you've picked.

Subject: Remote Collection Scheduling

Hello Mr. Opperman,

I'm reaching out to see if you'd been able to set up a time the the bookings link to have your remote collection started? I noticed some activity on our site from you, but hadn't seen a booking come through. I've updated our availability for you below, and will hold those slots for you if any of those times work:

Friday May 7th: 8am CST-7pm CST

Tuesday May 11th: 12pm CST-7pm CST

Friday May 14th: 8am CST - 7pm CST

Please let me know if you have any other questions- I'll await your response for a time that works best to kick off our collection.

Thank you,
Emily
